

ETHICS QUOTES

When I do good, I feel good; when I do bad, I feel bad. That's my religion.

(Abraham Lincoln)

Ethics, too, are nothing but reverence for life. This is what gives [us] the fundamental principle of morality, namely, that good consists in maintaining, promoting, and enhancing life, and that destroying, injuring, and limiting life are evil.

(Albert Schweitzer)

Neither fire nor wind, birth nor death can erase our good deeds.

(Buddha)

Gratitude is not only the greatest of virtues, but the parent of all the others.

(Cicero)

Always do right – this will gratify some and astonish the rest.

(Mark Twain)

Good people do not need laws to tell them to act responsibly, while bad people will find a way around the laws.

(Plato)

Associate with men of good quality, if you esteem your own reputation; for it is better to be alone than in bad company.

(George Washington)

To educate a person in mind and not in morals is to educate a menace to society.

(Theodore" Teddy" Roosevelt)

A good name is more desirable than great riches; to be esteemed is better than silver or gold.

(Proverbs 22:1)

Leadership is a potent combination of strategy and character. But if you must be without one, be without the strategy.

(General H. Norman Schwarzkopf)

A people that values its privileges above its principles soon loses both.

(Dwight D. Eisenhower)
